

1. Display all completed orders along with customer name and restaurant name.
2. Find the total revenue generated by each restaurant.
3. Show the total number of orders placed by each customer.
4. Find the average order amount for each city.
5. Categorize orders as Low, Medium, and High based on order amount.
6. Display restaurants whose average order value is greater than the overall average order value.
7. Find customers who have never placed any orders.
8. Show the top 5 customers based on total spending.
9. Find the most frequently used payment method.
10. Calculate the running total of revenue by order date.
11. Rank restaurants based on total revenue generated.
12. Find the second highest order amount from the orders table.
13. Find customers who placed more orders than the average number of orders per customer.
14. Display the top 3 restaurants in each city based on total orders received.
15. Calculate month-wise revenue and show the previous month revenue.